YOUTH, 12, TAKEN TO BOYS' SCHOOL FOR AUTO THEFT

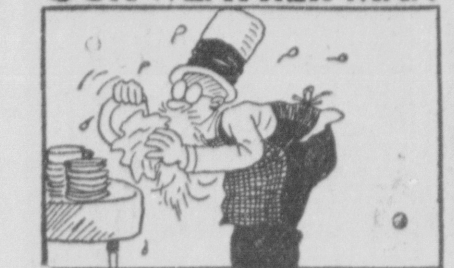

Charles Bailey, 12, of 539 E. Mound street, was returned to the Boys' Industrial school in Lancaster, Friday, because he didn't know how to drive an automobile.

An auto he used, police said, was stolen from a parking space on S. Court street, across from the courthouse. It belonged to Arnel Hamilton, Orient, Route 1. Mr. Hamilton did not know his car had been stolen until after it had been recovered.

Officers said the youth told them the traffic lights were "all green" when he went through the business district. In attempting to turn the car around at the Pickaway Country club he backed it into a ditch and was unable to get out. E. E. Richards, who resides near the Country club, helped the youth

BRITISH STAND EASES TENSION

Europe Holds High Hope That Warfare May Be Averted In 1938

BY UNITED PRESS
Europe gasped today at hope for a year's peace and better business before the next World War.

That hope spread—except in Spain—as a result of the declaration of foreign policy by British Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain designed to end immediate war threats by diplomacy and to speed the tempo of industry by building armaments of an unprecedented scale.

It was reflected in a more cheerful outlook by official circles in Czechoslovakia and in France, despite a new cabinet crisis in Paris, and in a statement by United States Ambassador Joseph P. Kennedy at London that prospects for peace in 1938 ought to help American business.

Meantime, Great Britain unofficially agreed to a proposal by the United States to set up a special international committee to aid emigration of political refugees from Austria and Germany.

Secretary of State Cordell Hull invited 29 nations to participate.

Britain's acceptance came as her government leaders acted to put force behind the Chamberlain declaration by speeding munitions production almost to a war-time basis.

VETERANS' UNITS ASK DIVISION OF WAR CHEST FUND

Committee in charge of distribution of War Chest funds will meet in Probate court offices Tuesday, March 29, at 10 a. m. to take final action on a petition filed by three veterans' organizations of the county asking that remaining funds be divided on the basis of membership in the organizations.

The committee in charge of the distribution consists of Forrest Short, county auditor; C. C. Young, Probate judge, and D. A. Yates, commander of Howard Hall post, American Legion.

Petition asking the distribution of the funds was filed by Howard Hall post, American Legion, Circleville; Arch post, American Legion, New Holland, and Henry Page Folsom post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, Circleville.

The petition explains that the organizations are familiar with those deserving aid and that a more general benefit could be derived from the division of the remaining funds.

The War Chest fund was donated by residents of the county for the benefit of those who saw service during the World War. Mr. Yates said the origin amount was about $8,000. About $2,000 remains. He said there have been no repayments of any of the loans and that they are not collectable.

In many counties where there were War Chest funds they have turned over to the service organizations, Mr. Yates explained.

Activities Of Utilities May Be Considered

WASHINGTON, March 25—

(UP)—The senate will consider various proposals for an investigation of the Tennessee Valley Authority today. It seemed almost certain that it would approve a resolution for an inquiry by both houses.

But senators were locked in a bitter struggle to determine whether the investigation should be on the bases of charges against the T. V. A. or to uncover utility company opposition to the New Deal's vast power and regional planning project.

On the surface the dispute involves jurisdiction over the inquiry—whether it is to be made by a senate committee or a joint body comprising members of both houses of congress. But fundamentally it represents political maneuvering on a federal policy that promises to become a major

MISSOURI WOMEN ASK PROTECTION IN CITY ELECTION

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., March 25.—(UP)—Governor Stark today took under advisement the demand of a group of Kansas City women that he call out the militia to supervise the municipal election there Tuesday.

"I am convinced from the information given me that there is a widespread fear on the part of women voters regardless of whether that fear is justified or not," said Stark.

Such unprecedented action on the part of the governor would result in serious complications, a source close to the Kansas City Democratic organization said here.

The women's delegation recalled to Stark the killings, sluggings, and rowdiness at the polls at the municipal election four years ago when the T. J. Pendergast forces defeated a fusion movement.

The petition stated the women "fear that the police of Kansas City will act just as they have in recent elections and will not afford police protection to them at the polls."

MARTINS FERRY, March 25.—(UP)—Mayor Lee Woods of this city of 15,000, hearing the wails of neighboring towns in serious financial straits, looked over the municipal finances today and announced with satisfaction that thanks to the municipal light and water plants Martins Ferry has a cash balance of $500,978.

The mayor did a little figuring and came up with the answer that if stretched, the surplus would provide $33.60 to each resident of the city.

Taking no credit for the record, the mayor gave it all to the municipal plants. The power system has been in operation here for 43 years. Business was so good during the 1936 and 1937 Christmas seasons that plant officials donated a month's power free to more than 4,300 consumers.

In recent years the light plant has provided sufficient surplus to finance construction of a swimming pool and improvements to public buildings. Ordinances, however, prohibit diversion of funds into general city operating revenue accounts.

Borrego, a former student at the Colorado School of Mines, is pictured. Also shown is Lawrence S. Armstrong, U. S. consul in Mexico City, who interceded for the Americans. The seizure followed President Lazaro Cardenas' expropriation of $400,000,000 of foreign-owned oil lands in Mexico. Thousands of men, women and children, supporting Cardenas' move, marched in a great mass demonstration in Mexico City.

REVOLT TALKED; QUARANTINE ON MILITIA GUARDS DOGS DISCUSSED BY AUTHORITIES

AGUA PRIETA, Sonora, Tex., March 25.—(UP)—Col. Alberto Canas, military commander, today was ordered to take charge of municipal affairs in this border town of 3,000 inhabitants where political revolutionists have forced the mayor and other city officials to see refuge in the United States.

At Hermosillo, capital of Sonora state, Secretary of State Manuel Rono revealed that Canas had been instructed to assume control until order was restored. Federal military officials said that the town was not under martial law.

Talk of revolt against the city administration had been heard since last September when the municipal election was held.

Last Wednesday the town was excited over President Lazaro Cardenas' announcement of the expropriation of foreign-owned oil corporations. Stores were closed and residents paraded.

Opponents of Mayor Martin, Burguero took advantage of the excitement to storm the city hall. They seized policemen and began a hunt for city officials.

Burguero, warned of the trouble, fled across the border to Douglas, Ariz. He was accompanied by Police Chief Percy Bowden, Prosecuting Attorney Arturo Mendoza and two policemen who had been wounded in fighting that accompanied the uprising.

BISHOP COOK DIES

BALTIMORE, March 25.—(UP)—Bishop Philip Cook, of the Episcopal diocese of Delaware, died early today at Johns Hopkins hospital. He was 62 years old.

A quarantine on Pickaway county dogs loomed Friday following a report from the state department of health that a stray dog killed Wednesday in Walnut township was rabid.

Dr. A. D. Blackburn, county health commissioner, said the quarantine would be discussed by the county board of health at its regular meeting Friday afternoon. He planned also to meet with the commissioners on Monday. He will discuss the matter with a state veterinarian to be in Circleville Saturday.

The dog, a stray black and tan hound, was killed by George Coates on his farm. Mr. Coates reported to the health department that the dog had bitten some of his livestock. His stock has been penned up. A positive report on the head was received Thursday afternoon.

This is the first case of rabies reported since last Summer, the health office reported.

CHIEF OF POLICE TO FIGHT CADY'S ORDER

15-Day Suspension Follows Refusal To Start Work As Policeman

CARL RADCLIFF TO ACT

Lack Of Cooperation and Conduct Charged

William F. McCrady, chief of Circleville police, was demoted to the rank of patrolman, Thursday night, by Mayor W. B. Cady, then given a 15-day suspension as a patrolman by Safety Director Karl Hermann.

Charging the action of the mayor and his safety director to be illegal, McCrady remained on the job Friday, wearing his badge as chief of police. He conferred with two attorneys to plan his attack on the orders of the city officials. A court action is expected.

The action of the mayor and safety director took place in a closed meeting held in the mayor's office. Those present in addition to Mr. McCrady were the mayor, safety director, and members of the Civil Service Commission. It was reported that the commission took no part in the proceedings.

Mayor Cady was out of the city Friday making a trip to the Boys' Industrial school at Lancaster with Frank Goff, juvenile officer.

Three Orders Given

His order issued to McCrady Thursday night read:

"1. Chief of Police William F. McCrady is hereby reduced to the grade of patrolman, effective this date, for disciplinary reasons.

2. Patrolman Carl Radcliff is hereby appointed as acting chief of police until further orders.

3. The acting chief of police will place all patrolmen to the districts under the supervision of the safety director."

Matters discussed in the meeting were not revealed.

After McCrady was handed the order reducing him to a patrolman, bringing him under the jurisdiction of the safety director, he was given the suspension order. It read "You are hereby suspended for a period of 15 days, taking effect this date." Mr. Hermann said the suspension order was given after Mr. McCrady refused to go on duty as a patrolman.

Hearing Demanded

McCrady said he expected to continue on duty as chief until the matter is submitted to the Civil Service Commission. "I was reduced to a patrolman without a hearing, then suspended as a patrolman. I am entitled to a hearing on my reduction before I become a patrolman," he declared.

Mr. McCrady was appointed chief of police in 1935 by Mayor Cady. He succeeded William Warner when Mr. Warner was placed on pension.

Mayor Cady, on his return to the city, Friday afternoon, said the demotion of McCrady was for neglect of duty, conduct unbecoming an officer and gentleman and disobedience of orders.

It is alleged that the chief of police recently left the door of the machine gun case unlocked, made unnecessary noise during a hearing, has failed to execute orders of the mayor and cooperate with the sheriff's department.

In recent weeks there had been rumors around the city building of a possible change in the police department.

Battleship won from the Irish-bred Royal Danieli in a hair-line finish that sent nearly 300,000 spectators into a frenzy.

It took a judge's decision to decide the winner of the 100-year-old race.

It was a two-horse finish. Sir Alexander McGuire's Workman was a poor third in the field of 36.

The many Americans in the throng cheered themselves hoarse when the result was posted, elated that a son of America's greatest thoroughbred should at last cap

MAN DIES, WOMAN HURT BY BLAZE IN APARTMENT

PAINESVILLE, March 25.—(UP)—One man was suffocated by smoke, a woman was injured in a leap from a second story window and three families were driven to the street today by fire which swept an apartment building.

Wayland Critchett, 25, was overcome by smoke. Firemen found his partly clad body on a bed. Mrs. Mary Zawicki, 50, Critchett's mother-in-law, was hurt when she jumped 20 feet from a bedroom window to the ground.

Attila Martin, suffered a slight cut on the foot when he kicked out a window to escape from a smoke filled room. He reached the street safely with his wife, as did other occupants of the building.

Cause of the fire was undetermined. Chief L. J. Elliot estimated the damage at $2,000.

$5,700 PAYROLL TAKEN BY THREE MASKED GUNMEN

CLEVELAND, March 25.—(UP)—Three masked gunmen today held up 12 employees of the F. Zimmerman Co., picture frame manufacturers, and escaped with a $5,700 payroll.

The bandits' faces were masked by stocking caps pulled down well over their faces with holes cut in the cloth for vision.

George Paskert, secretary of the company, who had just returned from a bank, was seated at his desk when the gunmen entered. As two of the trio stood guard over nine women and two other men employees, the third levelled a revolver at Paskert and pushed him to a desk where the payroll was being counted and placed in envelopes. The bandit scooped up the currency, joined his companions at the door and escaped in a small car.

Brooder House At Curry Farm Destroyed

By S. D. FRIDLEY
Ashville, Phone 79

The Ashville P-T.A. supported by the donations of parents, teachers and school patrons served a fine chicken banquet to 26 basketball players and their coaches Thursday evening at the school auditorium.

Talks by captains, coaches, graduates and others followed. William Griffith of Columbus, who was scheduled to give the main address, failed to appear. Along with the coaches' speeches went the presentation of letters to those who earned them during the season and belt buckles to the boys who went to the semi-finals in the district tournament at Westerville.

One hundred and twenty-five parents and friends of the team members enjoyed the eats and talks along with the players. Many of them also took part in the dance which followed the other festivities, the music for which was furnished by the Ed. Blake orchestra of Mt. Sterling.

An unusual feature of the party was the favors which E. F. Schlegel furnished for the individual members of the teams, orange block As on black backgrounds, made of wood. These and the five trophy cups which the teams won the last season, two of which were the Daily Herald cups which we temporarily hold, together with the large baskets of Easter flowers made the teams large center table a thing of beauty.

It seemed to be the general opinion that this was one of the best affairs of its kind held here for some time and it was all due to the untiring labor of the P-T.A. members and the fine community cooperation which they received from everyone.

No estimate has been placed on the loss.

Mr. Delong in his early school days was a resident of old district Number Five, Madison township and received good training in his tender years. He was our school mate then (1876 we'd guess) and was in the "little brat" class as compared to ours. Well, we had a fine visit and nothing was missed that we know of. New ones visit Headquarters every few days and leave their applications for admission to the Supreme Court. The Chief Justice has decided to "pack the court" and applicants will be received and passed upon in their order, until 500 has been admitted. ## Greatest Flood Struck County 25 Years Ago

Twenty-five years ago tonight, March 25, Pickaway county was struck by the greatest flood in its history.

Six inches of rain fell in 72 hours. The river reached a crest of 24 feet two inches. Damage to county bridges alone was estimated at $313,300. Property damage roughly estimated at $12,000 was caused to homes on N. Court and Pleasant streets when Hargus creek was backed up.

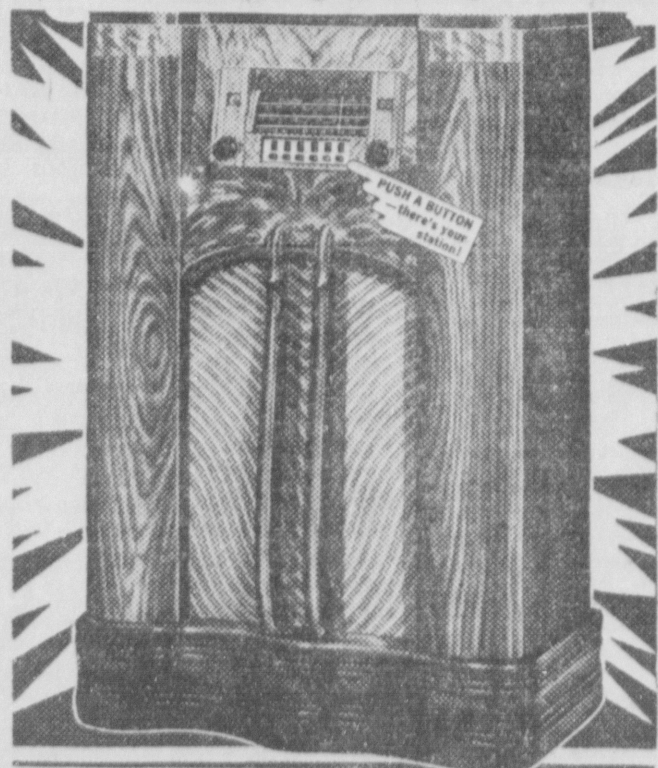

The flood waters put out of commission the Circleville Light & Power Co., the Colonial Carriage factory, the Scioto Valley traction line, the Pennsylvania division east and west of the city and the Norfolk & Western, north of Circleville.

There was no loss of life in Circleville due to the flood. Many residents of N. Court, Pleasant and Pickaway streets were rescued from their homes. The water rose so rapidly that in 35 minutes residents of N. Court and Pleasant streets were marooned.

More than 20 products are obtained from the ordinary shark. Leather from its skin is the most valuable.

Three-fourths cup butter, grated rind of two oranges, one cup sugar, three eggs, three tablespoons orange marmalade, two and one-half cups sifted cake flour, two and one-half teaspoons baking powder, three-fourths teaspoon salt, one-half cup fresh orange juice. Cream butter and orange rind, add sugar gradually, continue creaming. Add eggs, one at a time beating thoroughly; add marmalade. Add sifted dry ingredients alternately with orange juice. Beat until smooth. Bake in well-greased pan in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) for 40 minutes.

BARBECUE SAUCE

Salt and red pepper to taste. Brown onion in butter. Add remaining ingredients. Simmer 30 minutes then pour over roast.

APRICOT CREAM PIE

One baked nine-inch shell, two cups milk, four tablespoons cornstarch, one-fourth teaspoon salt, one cup sugar, one tablespoon butter, three egg yolks, one-half teaspoon vanilla, one and one-half cups apricot puree. Scald milk. Combine cornstarch, salt and sugar. Mix well. Pour a portion of the hot milk onto the dry ingredients and stir to blend well. Return all to double boiler and cook over boiling water, stirring constantly until mixture is thickened and smooth. Fill crust with mixture, using egg whites, sweetened for meringue. Brown in slow oven.

APRICOT PIE

Soak dried apricots for an hour or more, cook them slowly until they are tender. Drain and fill a pie crust with cooked apricots, sweetened to taste, dot with tiny bits of butter, cover with another crust and bake until crusts are done. You can, if you wish, sweeten the apricots while they are boiling, and don't drain them too dry. Keep the filling moist with a little of the juice of the fruit.

ROUND STEAK ROLLS

Cut a medium slice, about a pound and a half, of round or flank steak into four servings and season with salt dressing (moistened bread, egg, minced onion and seasoning) and place some in middle of each piece of meat. Sew around with heavy thread or fasten with toothpicks. Place in covered roaster and bake in medium oven about two hours, or until nicely browned. Add water occasionally, to make gravy later. During last half hour of baking add six carrots, sliced lengthwise. Serve on platter. Place carrots around meat, with creamed peas, mashed potatoes and gravy.

Morgan, Ready to Fight, Smiles

DR. ARTHUR E. MORGAN, ousted T.V.A. chairman, smiles for the camera in Chicago where he went following a visit at his home at Yellow Springs, Ohio. Interviewed by Chicago newsmen, Dr. Morgan said he was "wholeheartedly in favor of the T.V.A." but refused to discuss his differences with the other T.V.A. directors or elaborate on his own statement that he would "fight to the last ditch" to prove his ouster by President Roosevelt illegal. Morgan told newsmen: "When I entered office I filed a statement with government officials as to my private financial status. Just now I believe I will file another such statement as to my present financial status." This would be done to prove he had no financial benefit.

THE GARDEN CLINIC

By VICTOR H. RIES, O. S. U. floriculturist

The following questions are those which have been asked Mr. Ries in the last week either by mail, by telephone or personally at meetings. You too can have your questions answered by writing to this newspaper or direct to Mr. Ries, Ohio State University, Columbus.

QUESTION: What is the difference between perpetual and ever-blooming roses? Which is the hardest and the best?

ANSWER: The hybrid perpetual roses are slightly harder than the so-called everblooming or hybrid tea roses but do not give the profusion of bloom throughout the season that one should get from the hybrid teas. Consequently, I would suggest that you use the hybrid tea roses and possibly a few of the hybrid perpetuals such as Frau Karl Druschki where you want a particular color or type.

QUESTION: Name the best and most reliable roses for Ohio gardens.

ANSWER: This is almost impossible to do since the selection of roses is largely a matter of personal taste and personal pocket-book. You will find that the older varieties such as Radiance and Red Radiance are among the toughest and most satisfactory if you are not going to give them the best of care. However, if you will give your roses good drainage and adequate winter protection you will find the majority of the hybrid teas as offered by the nurseries will be satisfactory. In general, you will find the recommended list which most growers advertise will be highly satisfactory. May I suggest that in addition to these you add some of the singles like Dainty Bess and Innocence and be sure to include some of the Polyanthas such as Golden Salmon, Permanent Wave, Ellen Poulson, Gloria Mundi, and others.

QUESTION: How may one rid a flower bed of ants?

ANSWER: The smaller ants are usually rather easily poisoned. The method will depend on their food preference which may be determined by trial. The grease-eating ants are easily killed by rubbing a little tartar emetic on bacon rind and scattering small pieces around the garden where the ants are present. This is harmless to children and animals since, if eaten, will be immediately thrown up. The sugar eating ants may be controlled by mixing one ounce Paris green with one pound brown sugar, sprinkling it lightly where the ants are found. The larger black ants which make annoying hills and nests in the garden are usually easy to control by injecting some poison into the hill. Gasoline and carbon bisulphide are both satisfactory. A couple teaspoonfuls to a hill, closing the hill afterward, is often satisfactory although you may have to repeat this until success is obtained. This may kill plants whose roots are in the hill. Some people mix pyrethrum spray material and pour a cupful into the hill.

THANKS "VENDOL" FOR RELIEF OF TROUBLES IN STOMACH

Young Ohio matron says it is only medicine that ever brought ease and comfort. Marvelous relief from constipation. Advises everyone try it.

Here is an interesting report of how the green, zesty, herb and alkaline medicine Vendol helped Mrs. Harley H. Secoy, Athens, Ohio, who gives her experience as follows:

"For a long time my stomach has caused untold discomfort. After eating I would fill up with gas, acid rising, came up in my throat containing particles of food, my tongue and delicate linings of my mouth were so irritated that salt or anything hot made me almost scream. The gas pressed around my heart till it often scared me. This made me so nervous I couldn't sleep well and I'd get up every morning all tired out. I was constipated all the time which caused all my trouble.

"I heard Vendol praised so highly that I got some and it has made a big change in my feelings. It relieved my constipation so nicely that I can eat hearty meals but my digestion is so improved that I never have gas, sourness, or heartburn. My nerves

GAY SLUM AREA WILL BE RAZED

NEW ORLEANS, March 25 — (UP)—The famed Irish Channel of New Orleans, birthplace of politicians, priests and poets, is marked for obliteration by a modern Federal slum clearance project.

This section of the city between the fashionable uptown Garden district and the Mississippi River, known as the Channel for more than a century has been settled by hard-working, hard-fighting Irish longshoremen and German brewery workers.

In its heyday, from the gay '90s to the advent of prohibition, the Channel was the bulwark of Irish social life. Being "born in the Channel" stamped a man as able to back up his words with his fists. In the late afternoons when longshoremen relaxed with their families on the box steps which front most of the houses, a chief amusement was starting fights with unlucky ones whose path led through the district. Whole neighborhoods eagerly attended.

The Channel long was known as a bad place for "dudes" and "wise guys." Only in latter years, with newcomers or "foreigners" moving in and the younger generation leaving, has a stranger worn a collar without tenuity in the Channel.

Younger members of the colony began drifting away when prohibition closed the breweries. The boisterous wakes, the brick-bats, feasts of night and oratory in the nine-block long and two-block wide section are fast becoming memories. Indications are that there will not be much of a fight against the replacement of their homes.

But from those shanties, cottages and antiquated houses surrounded by high, wooden unpainted picket fences have come men who shaped the civic and marked the social life of New Orleans. The other landmarks are going.

ceed with a pink tree peony? Are they slow growing?

ANSWER: The tree peonies make low bushes about two feet in height with single or semi-double flowers. They are perfectly hardy although occasionally the buds will be killed by late frosts. They can be planted in any good, well drained garden soil.

QUESTION: Name some hardy dependable vines for growing on brick. Is the Engelmann ivy good? Is the Kudzu vine easily raised?

ANSWER: For growing on stone, brick or cement you will find the Boston ivy is usually preferable to the others of that type because it grows closer to the wall. For small walls, however, Engelmann ivy is very satisfactory. If the exposure is to the east or north in the southern two-thirds of the state you will find the English ivy may be grown satisfactorily. In all parts of the state you can use the evergreen wintercreeper or Euonymus radicans. The kudzu vine is rather variable in its growth here in Ohio; some people have success, others do not. I would suggest you buy the plants and set them out this spring in a sunny position.

Whether men's hearts were clean mattered nothing to these critics provided only that their hands had been made clean by going through certain prescribed motions. According to Ederheim "the hands must be lifted up, so as to make the water run to the wrist, in order to make sure that the whole hand was washed, and that the water polluted by the hand did not again run down the fingers." This was no requirement of God's law, but only "the tradition of the elders." However, they were putting these human traditions above divine law, as Isaiah had foretold would be done. So Jesus replied to their criticism, saying, "Well did Isaiah prophesy of you hypocrites, as it is written. This people honoreth me with their lips, but their heart is far from me. But in vain do they worship me, teaching as their doctrines the precepts of men. Ye leave the commandment of God, and hold fast the tradition of men." They were ignoring vital matters and stressing trifles. They were making religion a round of cold mechanics and of meaningless forms instead of a warm-hearted fruitful service of God and men.

Correcting Wrong Ideas of Religion

"BRASS TACKS" ON THE SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By DR. ALVIN E. BELL (The International Uniform Lesson on the above topic for March 27 is Mark 7:1-13, the Golden Text being Mark 7:6; "This people honoreth me with their lips, but their heart is far from me.")

CAPERNAUM was nearly 75 miles from Jerusalem, but not too far for Jesus' critics to go there to try to obstruct his work and discredit him as a teacher in the eyes of his followers.

Fact-finding vs. Fault-finding They had not come up from Jerusalem and had seen that some mission but as a fault-finding group. "There are gathered unto him the Pharisees and certain of the scribes, who had come from Jerusalem and had seen that some of his disciples ate their bread with defiled, that is, unwashed hands. For the Pharisees, except they wash their hands diligently, eat not, holding the tradition of the elders." Had these Pharisees come to seek facts instead of faults they could have discovered in Jesus' disciples men eager to live lives of righteousness, sincerity and helpfulness. They could have found numerous individuals and homes that had been made happier through three men's efforts. But it was not such facts they sought. They had come to find faults and all they could find was a lack of emphasis of some of Jesus' disciples on certain ceremonial washings of hands before eating.

Clean Hands or Clean Hearts

Whether men's hearts were clean mattered nothing to these critics provided only that their hands had been made clean by going through certain prescribed motions. According to Ederheim "the hands must be lifted up, so as to make the water run to the wrist, in order to make sure that the whole hand was washed, and that the water polluted by the hand did not again run down the fingers." This was no requirement of God's law, but only "the tradition of the elders." However, they were putting these human traditions above divine law, as Isaiah had foretold would be done. So Jesus replied to their criticism, saying, "Well did Isaiah prophesy of you hypocrites, as it is written. This people honoreth me with their lips, but their heart is far from me. But in vain do they worship me, teaching as their doctrines the precepts of men. Ye leave the commandment of God, and hold fast the tradition of men." They were ignoring vital matters and stressing trifles. They were making religion a round of cold mechanics and of meaningless forms instead of a warm-hearted fruitful service of God and men.

CO-EDS HAPPY ON $15 MONTH

ATHENS, Ga., March 25—(UP)—For 22 University of Georgia co-eds, the best place to study home economics is in the home.

To they rented a house and are keeping it up and saving money on a budget of $15 each per month.

The house work and cooking is divided into 22 equal shares, and each member of the co-operative organization has time off for other studies and social diversions.

Miss Marie Griffin, chairman of the group, said that the plan was to give each girl practical experience in home economics as well as "to reduce expenses as we go along."

The girls have been living on their budget since the beginning of the 1937 fall term and have saved approximately $100 from the monthly contributions of $15 each.

The savings, which the girls hope to increase in the next two months, will be rebated proportionately at the end of the school year.

One of the assignments, carried out alternately by the "co-op" members, is that of home-maker. The home-maker's duties consist of arranging menus, purchasing groceries and keeping books on expenses.

A typical breakfast menu lists cereal, scrambled eggs, biscuits, stewed dried apples and coffee. For lunch, the girls often have vegetable soup, banana sandwiches, croutons and milk.

A "co-operative" supper might consist of Irish stew, string beans, slaw, bran muffins, hot gingerbread and lemon sauce.

marking it for an offering kept parents from claiming it. With such devilish cunning these quibblers about non-essentials were teaching wicked men how to justify their sin and selfishness. So Jesus rebuked them, saying, "Ye no longer suffer him to do ought for his father or his mother; making void the word of God by your tradition, which ye have delivered; and many such like things ye do." Thus Jesus exposed the casuistry of those who in the name of religion taught wicked men how to cheat even their needy parents and do so within the law.

TODAY'S GARDEN-GRAPH

THIS IS the time of the year when many unexpected cases of poison ivy occur.

Since the vine is just budding out and not very noticeable now, you will need to watch out or it as you repair fences, trim trees or stroll through the woods looking for wild flowers.

As shown in this Garden-Graph, a good way to identify poison ivy now is by the way its branches grow, upright. They are a light gray and smooth. To break one of these stems, even in winter, will allow the milky sap which is the poisonous part of plant, to escape.

Virginia Creeper, always confused with poison ivy, has a quite different way of growing. Its branches are drooping.

Spray apparatus should be overhauled at this time lest it be not available later in a busy season.

Black is the favorite color of the younger set for the Sunday afternoon "jam date". And pink is the popular color chosen to be worn with black.

FARM PROGRAM PAYS BENEFITS ON QUOTA PLAN

Growers To Vote On Fixing
Acreage, Then Penalty
Tax Will Be Set

TO CONTROL PLANTING

$500,000,000 Put Aside For Annual Payments

By FRED BAILEY

United Press Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON, March 25—
(UP)—The new farm program was designed to protect farmers against low prices resulting from over-production, and consumers against shortages and high prices caused by short crops.

It provides machinery for limiting plantings of principal crops, regulating marketings and the storage of reserve supplies. Marketing regulations become effective when proposed by the Secretary of Agriculture and approved by two-thirds of the affected growers.

Called Charter of Freedom

Secretary of Agriculture Henry
A. Wallace hailed the new program as giving farmers a "new charter of economic freedom, and the consumers . . . legal protection against scarcity."

"The new farm act should prove to be truly a milestone in the history of farm legislation," he said.
"It expresses the unity of interest which ties together the different groups of people engaged in agriculture."

"The farmers of the nation now have an opportunity to go ahead along the path of economic democracy and to co-operate in working out their common problems."

Wallace said the program would make possible the beginning of a long-time, ever-normal granary—the storage of food, fiber and feed in years of plenty for use in years of scarcity.

Through acreage allotments on principal commodities — cotton, corn, rice, wheat, tobacco, peanuts and potatoes—production can be regulated provided normal weather conditions exist.

Program To Be Elastic

Unusual weather one year may be met by an expansion or contraction of acreage the following year. Changes in export and domestic demands can be met in the same manner.

Government loans will be made to enable farmers to store surpluses and to maintain an even flow of farm commodities to market.

Farmers who co-operate on acreage allotments and soil conservation practices prescribed by the secretary will receive price adjustment payments from an annual $500,000,000 appropriation by Congress.

Parity payments — additional subsidies to give farm commodities the same purchasing power in terms of manufactured goods that existed in 1909-1914—will be made if and when Congress makes funds available.

Compliance with acreage allotments is voluntary. Farmers must comply, however, to qualify for full benefit payments. Heavy deductions are made from benefit payments for each acre a farmer exceeds his allotment.

Benefits Require Co-operation
In addition, benefit payments are conditioned upon each farmer carrying out soil conservation and soil building practices prescribed by the Secretary of Agriculture.

The act specifies marketing quotas—subject to referendum—whenever the supply exceeds normal by set percentages. Quotas apply to all farmers, whether or not they have co-operated on acreage allotments.

Penalty taxes will be assessed against marketings in excess of quotas if approved by two-thirds of the growers voting in all referendum. Loans will not be made on commodities on which marketing

TAFT AND DAY INDICATE FIGHT FOR SENATE JOB

Recent Events Lead G.O.P.

To Expect Warm Contest
For Nomination

BOTH MEN IN ACTION

Clevelanders Says His Foe
Spends Much Money

COLUMBUS, March 25 — (UP)

— Events of the last fortnight appeared today to have laid the basis for the development of the Taft-Day competition for the Republican senatorial nomination into one of the most warmly fought contests of the primary campaign.

The rivalry between the two men is on in earnest and growing daily more acrimonious despite the fact that one of the contestants, Judge Arthur Day, Cleveland, of the state supreme court, has not yet formally declared his candidacy.
For the moment the fight is centered in Cuyahoga county, Judge Day's home county, and the most populous one in the state.

Robert A. Taft, Cincinnati, son of the late President and Chief Justice, of wholly different temperament than Judge Day, adopted likewise a different campaign strategy at the outset and was one of the first Ohio office seekers to declare himself a candidate.
With casual acquaintances Taft is reserved. Day is genial and hearty.

Ability Is Doubtful

A comparatively desultory political sparring match between the two took on a more lively aspect as Taft workers reportedly sought to belittle Day's talents as a vote-getter in general elections. In addition, evidence became apparent in Cleveland that the Taft managers were "invading" Day's home territory in an effort to lure Day's neighbors to the Cincinnati's cause.

In retaliation Judge Day hopped into his mud-spattered automobile which he is careful to maintain in that condition as a part of his political tactics; drove to Cleveland, and delivered a frontal assault on the enemy, intimating that money was being spent quite freely by the Taft organization.

"We have a terrific issue in the August primary," he told a G.O.P. rally. "It is that our ticket be representative of the hopes and ambitions of the economic middle class, 97 percent of the people.

"A man who has to work for a living can't campaign for a major office for a year. He can't pay paid agents to scour the state to secure the nomination. There isn't the slightest chance of anyone buying the nomination for United States senator."

Day's remarks were interpreted both as a further indication that he will make his appeal to the "common man" and as a response to sudden concentration of Taft efforts in important Cuyahoga county.

One of the first obstacles the Taft group set out to break down was the opinion in the minds of some politicians that Judge Day was unbeatable as a vote-getter.
It was generally understood that the Taft rival did not take kindly to the tactics employed by his opponent to upset that opinion.

Taft thus far in his public speeches has sought to define issues and policies consistent with his long fight against the New Deal in the courts and elsewhere.
Day, on the other hand, in general seems to have urged a liberalizing of the Republican point of view and his criticism of the part the owners of great wealth have played in the G.O.P. councils has been looked on as attacks on Taft.

Both Taft and Day have what is known as "good political names," both long identified with Ohio politics. Taft is a member of one of Cincinnati's richest, but also one of its most distinguished families. Day is the son of a Delaware county country doctor, and although perhaps not blessed at birth with the material advantages of Taft, nevertheless was reared in comfortable circumstances.

Antelope Victim Of Land Abuses

BY "DING" DARLING
"COMING BACK" is the good word that comes from the western plains regarding the antelope, the most sprightly member of our American fauna. The pronghorn is unique among the animals of the world—the only representative of his peculiar branch of the family. No animal except the buffalo has a more dramatic story to tell of wildlife waste, and of what restoration can do. What came mighty near being the final chapter in the antelope's history was written when settlers moved with their cattle and sheep onto the sparse, semi-arid lands of the great western plains. There, farming was utterly impossible. Shacks, deluded by the dream of free homesteads, paid more heed to the law of hunger than to game laws. They shot anything and everything that could be put into the kettle. Slaughter and competition with the domestic flocks for food almost annihilated the last of the antelope herds. Over-grazing has turned millions of acres into denuded and barren waste. In recent years, we have begun to wake up to the unwise use of land, and the luckless shacker has drifted away from some of the range of the antelope. At the same time some of the big ranchers have become the most stalwart friends of wildlife, and by rigid protection the antelope has gradually gained in numbers until now, sustained herds are appearing on the old hereditary ranges. The sweetest example of stream-lined speed imaginable is an antelope on the run. No wasted motion. An antelope, one of the most

Last Sunday he toiled four rounds against the New York Giants and yesterday went the same distance as the Tribe downed the Philadelphia Athletics 9 to 5. In the eight innings Feller has worked this Spring he has not given up a run. The Athletics, winners of seven out of their last eight contests, were able to secure only one hit off the Iowa farmboy yesterday. The only times Feller was in trouble came as a result of his wildness. The youngster walked six men. Four of the Athletics went down on strikes. In contrast to his work of last year when Feller depended almost entirely on his blinding fast ball, the youngster yesterday made a sharp-breaking curve the best pitches in his stock. Allen Falters When Feller left the box the Indians had a commanding 7 to 0 lead, but Johnny Allen couldn't hold it. He gave up four runs in the fifth and one in the eighth. Cleveland's last two runs came in the seventh. Roy Weatherly, Bruce Campbell and Hal Trosky each secured two hits to lead the Cleveland attack. The Indians were to play the Athletics again today. Reds, Dodgers Vie TAMPA, Fla., March 25—(UP)—The slumping Cincinnati Reds were to resume their "feud" series with the Brooklyn Dodgers here today. In an effort to avenge a defeat at the hands of the Dodgers Wednesday and to break the club's two game losing streak, Manager Bill McKechnie planned to use two of his young pitching aces, Lee Grissom and Lloyd (Whitey) Moore. The Reds dropped a 5 to 4 decision to the Kansas City Blues of the American Association yesterday at Haines City. McKechnie tested two of his rookies, Clint Raper and Paul Gehrman, against the minor leaguers. Raper was hit hard, yielding three runs and six hits in the four innings he worked. Gehrman did not permit a hit in the next one and two-thirds innings, but had to be removed from the hill when he issued four straight walks. Joe Cascarella, who was used principally in relief roles by the Reds last season, followed. He was nicked for the winning run in the eighth. The Reds secured eight hits off three Kansas City pitchers, but they were not as timely as the safeties secured by the Blues. The batting star of the contest was "Dusty" Cooke, who appears to be a fixture in right field for the Reds. Cooke secured three hits, two of which were doubles. The only other Redleg to secure more than one hit was the veteran Virgil Davis. agile in appearance of the American fauna, won't or can't, get over a four-foot fence, but it will dive under the ordinary ranch wire fence, come up on the other side in full stride without and apparent check in its speed, which is about twice that of the bounding deer. One of the finest examples of wildlife conservation in America is the Sheldon Antelope refuge in Nevada, under the management of the U. S. Biological Survey, where an adequate block of winter and summer range has been set aside for the permanent home of pronghorn antelope.

Paul Dean Not Worrying About Family's Future

TAMPA, Fla., March 25—(UP)—Quick squirts from the citrus chautauqua: Paul Dean is worried less than anybody else about whether his salary arm loses that tired feeling. Paul says he has $10,000 banked away in Dallas and that he and his wife and little Deanie can subsist on a dollar a day. So that gives them a lot of days if Duffy has his figures right. — Pepper Martin is the only member of the Cardinals who operates completely outside the law. Frankie Frisch and Sam Breadon think so much of Pepper that he can do no wrong. He has his own hill-billy orchestra, he captains a broad-jumping team and generally does about as he pleases. They haven't forgot that world series where he ran Mickey Cochrane of the Philadelphia Athletics crazy and won the thing practically single-handed. — The boys think they detect a slight mellowing of Joe Medwick. He hasn't swung on anybody yet this Spring and spends hours sitting around his room reading letters from home. There's a new member of the Medwick menage, weight eight and one-half pounds, and Joe is almost certain he isn't a left hander. Cronin Confident Joe Cronin of the Red Sox thinks he'll finish no worse than fourth this year, and predicts a notch higher than that if he can uncover one young pitcher capable of winning 10 games. Joe, himself, hasn't been hitting the size of his sun bonnet so far. — Dolf Camilli, new member of the Brooklyn, arrived in camp at Clearwater with a car-full of children and made a hit with the assembled photographers by adopting any pose you can think of. He seemed happy to be with the Dodgers, and that's news. — Larry MacPhail, who had his little differences with Judge Landis in the recent bygone at Cincinnati, knew the judge was preparing to pop down on the Cardinals days ago, and said so. Only nobody took Jacobs Studies THREE SITES FOR HEAVY CONTEST DETROIT, March 25—(UP)—Mike Jacobs, who controls the world's leading boxers, said today he would not decide on the site for the world heavyweight championship bout between Joe Louis, present titleholder, and Max Schmeling for several weeks. In Detroit to inspect the new Briggs stadium as a likely site, Jacobs said he would be unable to choose between New York, Chicago and Detroit until after Louis and Schmeling had completed their tuneup bouts. "Louis will meet Thomas in Chicago next week and Schmeling is scheduled to face Steve Dudas in Germany April 16," Mike said. "and you never can tell what may happen."

Roy Beatty's 607 was high for the evening. A Logan team gained a 31-pin edge over a Circleville team when totals of 2,571 and 2,540 were chalked up. J. The Bucks completed a sweep of their two game series with the University of Richmond yesterday by downing the southerners 8 to 2. Kilmer permitted only five hits and fanned 11 batsmen. ## BUCKS FAVORED TO WIN N. C. A. A. SWIMMING TITLE

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., March 25—(UP)—The N.C.A.A. championships, blue ribbon event of the intercollegiate swimming world, begin today with Ohio State favored to take the title from University of Michigan. Swimmers from 34 institutions from Bowdoin, Me., to southern California, will churn the Rutgers pool for the next two days, but Ohio State's paddlers are favored because of victories over Michigan's defending titleholders in both dual competition and the Big Ten championships. Harvard, champion of the Eastern Intercollegiate Swimming league, is rated only an outside chance of upsetting either of the Western conference teams. Yale has the largest entry with 15 men, but are not up to the Crimson in class. Both Michigan and Ohio State bright 12 contestants. Harvard and Texas are next numerically with 11. Michigan is defending champion in six events. Ed Kirar will try to repeat his triumphs in the 50 and 100-yard free-style swims, while Tom Haynie is shooting for another "double" in the 220 and 440-yard free-style events. The Maize and Blue will attempt to defend its 300-yard medley relay title without the services of its 1937 breast-stroke ace, Jack Kaslsey, world record holder. The Wolverines 400-yard free-style relay crown also will be at stake. BIRDS MEET SENATORS ORLANDO, March 25—(UP)—The Washington Senators continued their exhibition games against the minor leaguers today, entertaining the Columbus Redbirds of the American association. The Senators turned in the fourth victory in seven starts as they downed the Minneapolis Millers 8-1 yesterday. Columbus licked Rochester 7-3 yesterday.

GABBY NOT ABLE TO FINISH ROLE IN RADIO SKIT

HOLLYWOOD, March 25—(UP)—Charles (Gabby) Hartnett, 225 pounds of bone and muscle on a baseball field, but just so much quivering flesh in front of a microphone, went back to work with the Chicago Cubs today, daring anyone to call him Romeo. Gabby made his first—and probably his only—attempt to become a radio artist last night. He was to play opposite Miss Fanny Brice in a skit scheduled for release by the National Broadcasting company. But four minutes before he was to whisper, "I will kiss you a thousand times," Hartnett struck out. He tossed aside his script sheet and said: "It's no use, fellows. I can't go through with it." Gabby's part in the program was two-fold. First he was to be interviewed. (He went through with this.) Then he was to return after a musical number and take up the role of Francois La Borscht, captain of the French Foreign Legion. Miss Brice was to portray Fedora Chapeaux, an Arabian princess. The combination was too much for Hartnett. He decided he wasn't meant to be a lover. WILLIAMSPORT Miss Alice Tipton, senior at Ohio State University, is spending the Spring vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred L. Tipton. Metzger, was removed to her home in Jackson township, last Saturday. She is very much improved. Mrs. Morris Stein of Circleville is caring for her. Harmon Carter, sophomore at Ohio State and a member of the O. S. U. band, is on a concert tour with that organization during the Spring vacation. Ray Betts was host to a farewell stag party honoring Mr. Hanson, superintendent of engineers on the Resettlement project. Twenty-one guests were present. A steak dinner was served by Mrs. Ray Betts and Mrs. Homer Henson which was greatly enjoyed by all. Announcement is being made of the marriage on February 6, of Miss Esther Beavers and Charles Ebenhack, at Newport, Kentucky. Rev. John R. Creamer of Salem M. E. church officiated. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Beavers of Circleville. Mr. Ebenhack is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Marcus Ebenhack and graduated from the Williamsport High School with the class of '35.

Germans to Honor 1,000 Policemen for Their Aid

VIENNA, March 25.—(UP)—Nearly 20 percent of Austria's policemen were secret members of the Nazi party during the years of the Dollfuss and Schuschnigg governments, it was disclosed today. For five years they worked actively in the Nazi interest at risk of imprisonment and despite numerous reorganizations by authorities of the national police force, it was revealed.

Some 1,000 men succeeded in evading detection even though it was known that Nazis had infiltrated into the force. They maintained membership in the outlawed Nazi party, paid their dues, and worked actively to aid the Nazis to power, it was disclosed.

1,000 on Honor Roll
The fact of the Nazi hold on the police force was revealed today with an official announcement that 1,000 policemen would be permitted to wear a special emblem of honor on their uniforms, attesting their past loyalty to the Nazis despite great personal risk to themselves. Their names will be placed on a special roll of honor. (It has been a matter of general knowledge for years that the Nazis had infiltrated into key positions in official life in Austria despite vigorous efforts to eliminate them. The Nazis cited this fact in support of their claim that, had there been a free election under the Dollfuss or Schuschnigg regimes they would have won a majority.—Ed.)

Field Marshal Hermann Goerring, Adolf Hitler's right hand man, left Berlin for Austria last night to open a campaign in support of the union with Germany, on which Austrians and Germans will vote in a plebiscite April 10. Goering was expected to make his first speech here tomorrow.

Aside from his speeches, Goering as air minister will confer on Austria's part in the greater German air force. Even more importantly, as dictator of the four-year plan of self-sufficiency, he will discuss the merger of Austria's economic machinery with that of Germany.

Many Hear Speech
It was estimated that half a million people listened in the streets and in public squares last night to the broadcast speech of Joseph Buerckel, whom Hitler appointed to direct the plebiscite.

Buerckel impartially denounced former Chancellor Kurt Schuschnigg, Jews, democracy and monarchists but spoke reassuringly to left wing workers and to church people.

He called Schuschnigg a traitor to his German blood, said that "democracy and lies are companions," said of charges of maltreatment of Jews that "they were treated with magnanimity considering what they had done to Austria," and said of monarchists that "they are the only ones we certainly do not want in Austria; stuck up idlers do not fit in our working state."

He said that Goering would announce in a speech here Sunday a rich economic program which economic program would mean that the time for strikes and lockouts was over.

But Buerckel added that Hitler would not reject Marxist workers, for whose conversion to Marxism through Jews, he said, the Nazis blamed post-war profiteers. He denied that any ecclesiastics were under guard or under arrest and he expressed regret that reports to the contrary should have appeared in the newspaper Osservatore Romano of Vatican city, the semi-official Vatican organ.

Specialist Released
Prof. Heinrich Neumann, 62, famous ear specialist who treated the Duke of Windsor, was released Wednesday evening after having been held prisoner for 10 days, a member of his household said. It was added that his passport had been confiscated.

Nazis announced that a delegation of the Czech minority in Austria had visited Vienna authorities and given assurance that Czechs of Austrian citizenship would vote "yes" in the plebiscite.

HUSTON ON PROBATION

LETTERS SENT TO COUNTRIES SEEKING HELP

Uncle Sam's Immigration Quotas May Be Altered Under New Program

WASHINGTON, March 25 — (UP) — Administration officials today awaited foreign reaction to their proposal of a special international committee to assist the escape of political refugees from Germany and Austria.

While the proposal, sent to 30 nations by Secretary of State Cordell Hull, mentioned no political or racial creed, it was evident that it was made in behalf principally of Jews in Germany and Nazified Austria.

Hull's suggestion lacked details or specific suggestions except that the nations he addressed should set up a committee to facilitate the emigration from Austria and, presumably, Germany, of political refugees. The invitation was sent to all American republics, Great Britain, France, Belgium, Switzerland, the Netherlands, Italy, Norway, Sweden and Denmark.

Duties Not Disclosed

The duties of the proposed committee or the manner in which it might "facilitate the emigration of political refugees" were not set forth in the note. In state department circles it was believed, however, that it might do a great deal to assist those persecuted for racial, religious or political affiliations.

The invitations said specifically that the United States did not propose that the immigration quotas of any country should be enlarged, and that it was understood that private organizations should finance any such emergency emigration as might take place.

"In making this proposal the government of the United States has emphasized that it is no sense intends to discourage or interfere with such work as is already being done on the refugee problem by any existing international agency," the announcement said.

"It has been prompted to make the proposal because of the urgency of the problem which the world is faced and the necessity of speedy cooperative effort under governmental supervision if widespread human suffering is to be averted."

The inference in state department circles was that to further the project, German and Austrian immigration quotas in this country would be merged to permit the entry of more than 17,000 immigrants between now and July 1, when new quotas go into effect. Austria's quota for the fiscal year is 1,413. On Feb. 1, 413 visas had been used leaving a "credit" balance of 1,000. Germany's quota is 25,957. Up to Feb. 1, 9,004 visas had been issued, leaving a balance of 16,953.

Celler Offers Bill

Almost simultaneous with Hull's proposal Rep. Emanuel Celler, D., N. Y., introduced a bill in the house to authorize the President to lift immigration quotas and to permit refugees from racial, religious or political persecution to come to the United States regardless of quota restrictions.

ALL TYPES OF MINDS

BRIDGE advertises the general type of mind you possess. Is yours over-bold, over-timid, over-hasty, over-slow, prone to resentfulness when you are bluffed, or likely to be frightened by fakery? Despite the way that psychic bidders have been shown up in recent years, there still are plenty of players who let such adventurers kid them out of games and slams.

After passes by East and South, West started the bidding with 1-Club. North doubled this and East redoubled. South put in a bid of 1-Spade, which West passed and North raised to 2-Spades, whereupon all passed.

The North-South cards will produce game in spades or in no rump, but their holders allowed themselves to be influenced by the bidding of the opponents. North should have injected a bid of 2-No Trumps instead of a simple raise to 2-Spades. South then would have had no hesitancy in raising to game. With the amount of honor strength held by North, it should have been apparent to him that if West had enough strength for an opening bid, East certainly did not have enough for a redouble. East had plenty of nerve to make the psychic redouble he did, but in this case his courage was rewarded.

THREE SOLONS SEEK APPROVAL FOR THEIR IDEAS

Barkley, Norris, Bridges File Separate Plans Of Action

Three resolutions are pending, all calling for full inquiry into President Roosevelt's power "yardstick" agency, torn for two years by an intra-directorate feud which resulted in removal of its chairman, Dr. Arthur E. Morgan. Each proposal would provide the investigating committee with $50,000 for expenses and grant subpoena powers to the investigators.

Two of them—one by Sen. George W. Norris, Ind. Neb., and the other by Sen. Alben W. Barkley, D. Ky.—sought to include the activities of private utilities in the scope of inquiry. The other, jointly sponsored by Sen. H. Styles Bridges, R. N. H., and Sen. William H. King, D. Utah, carries a virtual bill of particulars specifying 23 T. V. A. subjects to be investigated.

Norris succeeded in calling up his resolution, for a senate inquiry, late yesterday. Barkley promptly offered his, for a joint senate-house committee, as a substitute.

Bridges sought their agreement for a conference today with himself and King. Both agreed, but no time was set and Norris indicated that he would not be interested in compromise.

"I will unconditionally oppose Sen. Bridges' resolution," Norris said. "It gives too much blanket power to go into phases not pertinent to the situation. I am opposed to Sen. Barkley's resolution because my original purpose was to have the investigation conducted by the Federal Trade Commission. I have gone as far as I am willing to go to reconcile my resolution with the others."

Bridges said all he wanted was for "everything to be on a fair and equal basis."

LAURA G. LANE, NATIVE OF COUNTY, DIES SUDDENLY

Miss Laura Grace Lane, daughter of the late David and Mary Lane, and a resident of Commercial Point until she removed to Columbus four years ago, died suddenly Friday at 12:45 a. m. Organic heart disease was fatal. Miss Lane's father served many years ago as a member of the Pickaway county infirmary board.

The funeral will be Monday at 2 p. m. at the home of Mr. and Mrs. O. I. Lane, 170 Rosewood road, Columbus, the Rev. R. T. Kelsey officiating. Interment will be in charge of the Albaugh Co.

Charles F. Lane, a brother, is her only survivor.

THREE MEN FINED

Three South Bloomfield men were fined $10 and costs in police court Friday on charges of being drunk and disorderly. Joseph Simmers, 43, was sent to the county jail when he failed to pay. William R. Leslie, 63, paid his account. The fine and costs of Forrest Bennett, 40, were suspended by the mayor. Police said they were arrested at a W. Main street beer parlor.

AMERICAN HORSE WINS BIG RACE

Battleship, Man O' War's Son, In First Place At Aintree

Three times in the history an American owner has won, but never with an American horse.

Battleship is an eleven-year-old chestnut horse by Man O'War-Quarantine. One of the smallest horses in the race, he carried 160 pounds without difficulty. Low weight was 140 and top was 175, carried by Royal Mail.

Battleship is owned by Mrs. Marion Scott, formerly Mrs. Dupont Somerville and now wife of Randolph Scott, American film actor.

Battleship began his racing career on American tracks in 1929 and won four out of ten starts that year. In 1930 as a three-year-old he won ten races on the flat.

He began light training as a steeplechaser in 1934 but was not campaigned a great deal until he was sent after the great prize today.

YOUTH TO FACE MURDER CHARGE

on so many Sunday afternoons, they went to the Carroll home. Donald, knowing that his mother and three brothers would be away, had "played hookey" and had managed to get Charlotte away from the office in which she had worked as a typist.

They sat in the living room for a while, discussing their problem for the last time. Then Donald got his father's army revolver, a .45, and went with Charlotte to his bedroom. He shot her under the left breast, killing her almost instantly.

When police arrived in answer to his call, Donald was coming down the stairs, his blond hair rumpled and his double-breasted blue coat damp with blood. He had held his dead Charlotte in his arms, he said, kissing her.

Police said Bailey told Richards his father was at the American hotel. The youth jumped out of the car and ran when Mr. Richards took him to the hotel. Richards notified police about the act and gave a description of the youth.

Bailey was arrested at his home. Officers said several recent thefts of articles from autos were cleared by the youth. They recovered two flashlights, one reported stolen from a state patrol car and a pair of binoculars taken from the auto of Paul Wallace. The youth is alleged to have stolen several bicycles, later abandoning them.

He was released on parole from the industrial school the day before Christmas. He is the son of Roscoe Bailey.

Members of the sheriff's department aided police in the search for the youth.

After learning that the round-trip railroad fare was $73.08, Conway said he would have to talk it over with his manager who is a local ice cream distributor.

OHIO ATTORNEY GENERAL MAPS BUND CAMPAIGN

COLUMBUS, March 25—(UP)—Activities in Ohio of the German-American bund, Nazi organization, were being investigated today by Attorney General Herbert S. Duffy.

The attorney general revealed that he had written to Fritz Kuhn, New York, national head of the bund, asking for information concerning officers of the bund in Ohio, their activities, and the purpose for which three camps were established in Ohio.

Duffy said he wanted to find out "if they are violating any Ohio laws, particularly the criminal syndicalism statute."

The Ohio Nazi camps, Duffy reported, are German center, in Cleveland; Youth Camp No. 5, in Cincinnati; and Camp Richthofen, in Dayton.

The attorney general said he had received "certain confidential information concerning the bund."

"I am desirous of knowing, at once, the names of the local chairmen and all other officials of these camps," a statement from Duffy read.

"I am also desirous of knowing, at once, the scope of their activities and the purpose for which they are organized, the address of their places of meeting, and complete information with reference to these three camps.

"If this is not immediately forthcoming, action will be taken to compel that such information be certified to this office."

CINCINNATI CHILD BURNS AS STOVE IGNITES CRIB

CINCINNATI, March 25—(UP)—Five-month-old Jane Wedmore burned to death in her mother's arms today as the mother ran for aid.

Flames enveloped the infant crib as she lay asleep near the kitchen stove. Mrs. Helen Wedmore had been visiting her mother, Mrs. Lilly Dunham, 37, in the apartment above.

Mrs. Wedmore smelled smoke and ran downstairs. She picked up the baby and ran, screaming upstairs where she and her mother beat out the flames. Both were burned. A nurse gave the child first aid treatment but she died within a short time.

Your room may have seemed a problem child when you thought you had only the old "standard-sizes" to choose from. BUT NOW the Bigelow Weavers are making rugs for those off-size rooms and if you come in and tell us what your room measures and what you want to spend, you can get a rug that fits... in size and price.

Bigelow Nantaskett $39.50 9 x 12

For example, Bigelow Nantaskett comes in 53 sizes, and there are patterns and colors galore. Fetching hooked-rug designs and texturous geometric patterns. The price? The reason for getting Bigelow Nantaskett.
